Next session of City's free building and development forum features water, September 18

The City of Campbell River's next one-hour lunch 'n' learn session for local builders and developers will focus on water Wednesday, September 18.

The City of Campbell River provides safe drinking water within City boundaries and by contract to some neighbouring areas.

"A vital component of delivering high quality drinking water is the cross connection and backflow prevention program," says Nathalie Viau, the City's utilities project supervisor.

Forum participants will meet the City's Utilities Project Supervisor and discuss how to keep contaminants out of the water supply system through cross connections and backflow (reversal of water flow) prevention as well as ways to avoid water quality problems.

Local industry professionals interested in attending are reminded to bring their own brown bag lunch. Please note these forums are now held on a quarterly basis.

The forum will take place at noon, Wednesday, September 18 in the committee room at City Hall – please note the venue change for this one event. Seating is limited to 16 attendees.
